LAS VEGAS MOTOR SPEEDWAY

Opened in 1996, Las Vegas Motor Speedway is home to some of the most exciting racing in the country.

The racing complex has hosted everything from NASCAR races, the Electric Daisy Carnival, to the ReMax World Long Drive Championship and Red Bull Air Race World Championships through the years.

The 1.2 mile, 9 turn road course is located in the center of the Las Vegas Motor Speedway. The average cornering speed for this course ranges from 80 kph on the first left handed corner to 135 kph. The Huracan Evo ST can reach speeds up to 220 kph in the straight away and lateral G-Forces up to 1.6. This challenging track is the perfect location to race on.
